

HOMECOMING FARM'S TENTH ANNUAL SPRING AWAKENING

Opening our Hearts to the Consciousness of All Living Beings with
Carl Safina, PhD

Saturday, April 18th
8:45 AM - 2:30 PM
Mother Josepha Hall at Queen of the Rosary Motherhouse
555 Albany Avenue
Amityville, NY 11701
631-842-6000, Ext. 307
Tickets: $45 per person
Including Vegetarian Lunch

Carl Safina hosted the PBS series Saving the Ocean, and is the author of the classic book, Song for the Blue Ocean. Carl's seventh book is Beyond Words; What Animals Think and Feel. He has won a MacArthur Genius Prize, Pew and Guggenheim Fellowships; book awards from Lannan, Orion, and the National Academies; and the John Burroughs, James Beard, and George Rabb medals. His TED talk on What Animals Think and Feel has been seen by over 2 Million viewers! Carl is the first Endowed Professor for Nature and Humanity at Stony Brook University and he runs the not-for-profit Safina Center. Carl's brand-new book is Becoming Wild; How Animal Cultures Raise Families, Create Beauty, and Achieve Peace. He is a renowned speaker and presenter and we are honored to welcome him to Homecoming Farm.

Please join us for a beautiful day as we gather with other like-minded people to explore animal consciousness in a time of Life and Extinction.

Enjoy presentations and discussions,
a book signing with Carl,
music and raffles; visit our farm,
and share a delicious vegetarian lunch!

For More Information:

Please call: 631-842-6000, Ext. 307

Email: sophiagardengrow@aol.com

REGISTER ONLINE AT EVENTBRITE:
Homecoming Farm Spring Awakening 2020